Rev. S. C. George was in Mingo today looking after some property he owns in that place.

Business at the freight depot yesterday was heavy and much freight was sent from the outbound platform.

Timothy Dwight, of Chicago, is the guest of J. L. Francis. He is connected with the proposed Liverpool and Lisbon railroad.

It is rumored that a prominent young business man of the city will in April be united in marriage to a society lady of a neighboring city.

The gates at the Broadway crossing are useless. They have been broken for several weeks, but it is thought they will be repaired next week.

S. S. McCurdy, a sewer pipe manufacturer of East Palestine, was in the city yesterday on business. He left last evening for Steubenville.

Dr. Samuel Lindsay, of this city, who has been spending several days with relatives in Salineville, returned to the city at noon.

Mrs. McCloskey, wife of Mail Carrier McCloskey, who has been visiting relatives in Akron for several weeks, returned to the city at noon.

F. A. Leonard, who has been spending several weeks in the east in the interest of the potteries he represents, returned to the city this morning.

The large steam shovel that has been undergoing extensive repairs in the Wellsville shops was this morning taken to the gravel pit at Smith's Ferry.

Not one piece of baggage was sent east on the early accommodation train this morning. A very small amount was received from the Cleveland express.

The office of a justice was last evening the scene of a war of words between a well known attorney and Constable Miller. The principals were angry and the spectators amused.

Frank Pilgrim was pleasantly surprised by a large number of friends last evening, the affair taking place in Junior Mechanics hall. A party from Pittsburgh helped to enliven the occasion.

Before the remains of Mrs. D. Campbell were taken to Butler, Pa., appropriate services were held at the house by Reverend Reinartz. The deceased was a faithful and consistent member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church.

It is expected that Rev. R. B. Whitehead, pastor of the South Side Methodist Protestant church at Pittsburgh, will preach at the Methodist Protestant church of this place tomorrow evening. Arrangements are now being made, but will not be completed until this evening.

Sanitary Policeman Burgess this morning made a trip about Pink alley and as a result a number of residents cleaned the garbage which they had thrown about the alley. The alley has been in a bad condition for some time, and should be cleaned as soon as possible.

The report of the township trustees for last month, just completed, shows that of the township fund $314.41 was expended and of the county fund $38.50. The last report showed an expenditure of $407.99 of the township funds and $44.77 of the county fund.

SALEM WOMAN

Asks the Court to Give Her a Divorce on What Seems Good Grounds.

LISBON, Feb. 25.—[Special]—Following closely on the proceeding in which the Dyball family, of Salem, are prominent figures comes a petition for divorce and alimony, filed by Mrs. Olive S. Dyball.

Mrs. Dyball says she was married to E. E. Dyball at Youngstown, July 31, 1887, and they have two children, Estella and Mabel, aged 10 and eight years. As ground for divorce she says that Feb. 19 her husband without cause was guilty of extreme cruelty toward her, by striking her with his fist and otherwise beating and maltreating her in a shameful manner. Second—By using profane, obscene and insulting language in the hearing of 20 guests and servants of the Broadway hotel. Third—After thus abusing her for four hours and rendering her nervous and sick, he, in the presence of another woman, had copulation with her against her will.

He has, she says, at other times been guilty of acts of cruelty toward her by striking, beating and threatening to kill her, and by reason of his ill treatment there is a separation between them. The husband owns real estate in Salem. She asks in connection with the divorce reasonable alimony, custody of her children and the court require him to provide for their maintenance and education.

NO FOOD EXPERIMENT.

Eagan Denied Such a Charge—Canned Meat Condemned by Some Witnesses at the Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Former Commissary General Eagan concluded his testimony before the court of inquiry, explaining the provisions of contracts for beef supplies to the armies in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines. He very vigorously denied any knowledge of any chemical treatment of beef to preserve it and disavowed any connection whatever of the government with any such treatment. He further defended the canned roast beef, explaining why it had been sent to the troops, and when Colonel Davis, the recorder, asked him if any food had been used as an experiment or pretense of experiment, suggesting General Miles' famous allegations that precipitated the Eagan court-martial, the former commissary general, with great dignity and emphasis, replied sweepingly in the negative.

General Eagan was followed by Major General D. M. Young and other officers who were in the Santiago campaign, and by officers of the submarine department. The refrigerated beef was recommended while the canned roast beef, on the whole, rather suffered as sequence to the day's testimony.

Philadelphia's Expenses.

The estimated expenses of the city of Philadelphia for the year 1889 are $31,400,000, the chief item of which is for education, the police expenses being $3,100,000 and the fire department $1,000,000. New York has, approximately, three times as many inhabitants as Philadelphia, and its police department costs nearly $12,000,000 a year.
